Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a method of fabricating a thin film transistor used in a semiconductor display device and a thin film transistor. 2. Description of the Related Art Semiconductor display devices, such as liquid crystal display devices, electroluminescence display devices, and organic electroluminescence display devices, are in widespread use as one of the flat panel display devices. In recent years, semiconductor display devices have been required to be more compact and have higher resolution and a larger screen. In addition, the demands for higher definition of semiconductor display devices and image display devices are increasing. In response to these demands, various developments of a thin film transistor (hereinafter, referred to as a TFT) used in an active matrix semiconductor display device are carried out. Among them, a TFT having a TFT active layer made of a low-temperature polysilicon film (hereinafter, referred to as a low-temperature polysilicon TFT) has been attracting attention. A low-temperature polysilicon TFT is fabricated by depositing a low-temperature polysilicon film over a substrate having a stacked structure of an insulating film and a semiconductor film and a gate insulating film in a reduced pressure atmosphere so as to cover the stacked structure. When a low-temperature polysilicon TFT is fabricated, a gate insulating film is provided over a substrate having a stacked structure of an insulating film and a semiconductor film, and a gate electrode is provided over the gate insulating film. Then, a source region and a drain region are formed in the semiconductor film through an ion doping or an impurity implantation. A low-temperature polysilicon TFT is required to have a characteristic of a p-channel TFT by containing a p-type impurity. However, it is not easy to perform an impurity doping through an ion doping or a doping through an impurity implantation at a low temperature. Therefore, it is necessary to use a plasma doping which can accomplish a doping at a low b7e8fdf5c8
