to create images from scratch, add layers, modify colors, apply effects, and create special graphics. While Photoshop does require a computer and some artistic ability to use it, most users can learn how to use it in a few short weeks. There are three primary components to Photoshop: the program itself, image files, and the document you want to manipulate or style. Photoshop starts with an empty document, and you begin by selecting and manipulating an image. Once the image is finished, it can be saved in any of the common image file types, or you can export it directly to other formats. Photo By David

Bremmer How do I use

Photoshop? The first step in using Photoshop is opening the program, which is like opening a computer. The good news is that most users, whether they are beginners or professionals, can get by with a very basic knowledge of Photoshop. Once you have opened the program, you should look for the tutorial you've chosen. These tutorials are generally done in a specific format, such as Photoshop Elements, and are text-based. You can search for tutorials or look at user reviews for tutorials that are the best for you. User reviews can be a great way to filter out the ones that give you the least information, because they will often give a lengthier tutorial. To get started with Photoshop, you should pick out a tutorial that is easy to follow and move from tutorial to tutorial until you reach the one that is right for you. In addition to tutorials and user reviews, you should also watch some instructional videos, which can be found on YouTube. You can also sometimes find these videos on the Adobe website, as well as some user forums. There are two types of videos: those that are lecture-based, where the instructor talks about the product at a pace that gets through to the user, and those that are hands-on, where the user shows you the process and allows you to see the tools. When you use Photoshop for the first time, you need to figure out how to start the program and then move to the menu. You'll find that the menus are similar to those on a desktop computer. Once

We go live to Ridgefield, New Jersey this morning where the New Jersey State Knights of Columbus are going to hold the presentation of the Order of Fidelity's Patriot Award to the Puerto Rican community in their community. We know that Governor Christie was in attendance. He's obviously going to receive the award on behalf of the State of New Jersey. We were not able to confirm earlier this morning whether or not Governor Christie would be joining the New Jersey Knights of Columbus and the Knights of Columbus Leadership Council today to receive the award. We are hearing that he is not. That's a major get. But that's not all. A majority of the New Jersey Knights of Columbus Leadership Council met with all the elected State Knights of Columbus Councils in December when this award was presented. This is on the order of, "You're going to wear a suit to your confirmation". This is a place that it's a practice to do formalities like this in the day. We're told that it's not that he is a no-show, he does have other things to do and the committee is meeting on what to do about it. They want to do it. This is a big get. Chris Christie is big. He's the big get. All of the New Jersey Knights of Columbus Leadership Council and the New Jersey State Knights of Columbus meeting together on that committee to make sure this happened in his honor was extremely important. He's coming here to the site of one of the largest meetings of the State Knights of Columbus. The New Jersey State Knights of Columbus is the only state of New Jersey in the entire country that has more than one Church. We're talking about Churches from Bergen to Passaic to Essex to Camden and now Union County. This morning's event is now in progress. We'll be back for our live coverage at 10:00am.

Q: Add dynamic fields to wp_validate_tax_object_values only for specific products I'm currently validating products for specific taxonomies, but I also would like to add some additional fields to the fields_for list.

$excerpt =
get_post_field('excerpt', 'type=taxonomy', $post->ID); $content =
get_post_field('content',
'type=taxonomy', $post->ID); $image =
get_post_field('thumbnail',
'type=taxonomy', $post->ID); wp_validate_tax_object_values( array( 'excerpt' => $excerpt, 'content' => $content, 'image' => $image, 'location' => array( 'on' => $post->ID, 'field' => 'location',),), $post->post_type); This is very handy, but as you can see, it will also validate any "taxonomy". Now I know that I could specify the taxonomy directly, but since there are not many products with those taxonomies that would be cumbersome. Is there any way I can modify this, such that it would dynamically add to the fields_for list based on whether or not the currently valid product is in a certain taxonomy? If not, is there another way that might be more effective? A: The additional information to be posted can be setup into a struct first. $wp_tax_args = array('name' => 'tax_name', 'description' => 'tax_description', 'show_on_front' => false, 'show_in_nav_menus' => false); $args = WP_Taxonomy::get_args($post->post_type, $wp_tax_args); $post_id = isset($args['post_id'])? $args['post_id'] : $post->ID; $args = array('name' => 'custom_taxonomy_name', 'description' => 'Custom Taxonomy description', 'slug'

=> 'custom_
